

B|D landscape architects

united kingdom

www.bdlandarch.com
info@bdlandarch.com

vote for this office

about voting

B|D landscape architects are a design based consultancy with outstanding expertise in the field of public realm design and a growing reputation for contemporary landscape architecture, urban design and space-making.

We are a dynamic, energetic & dedicated firm of landscape architects committed to the integration of sustainable design to deliver amazing places.

We have worked on some of the highest profile squares, streetscapes & campus renaissance projects in the country.

Our approach combines contemporary sustainable design with creative ecology looking to glean the unique genius loci from each place – our designs draw inspiration from the history, ecology, environment, use & character of the site.

We believe in creating extraordinary effects with ordinary things to deliver meaningful and much loved public spaces & places.

We relish collaborating in multidisciplinary teams pushing the boundaries of contemporary design using technological innovation and sustainable materials.

B|D was established in November 2008 and is a registered practice with the Landscape Institute.

Emmanuel Primary School

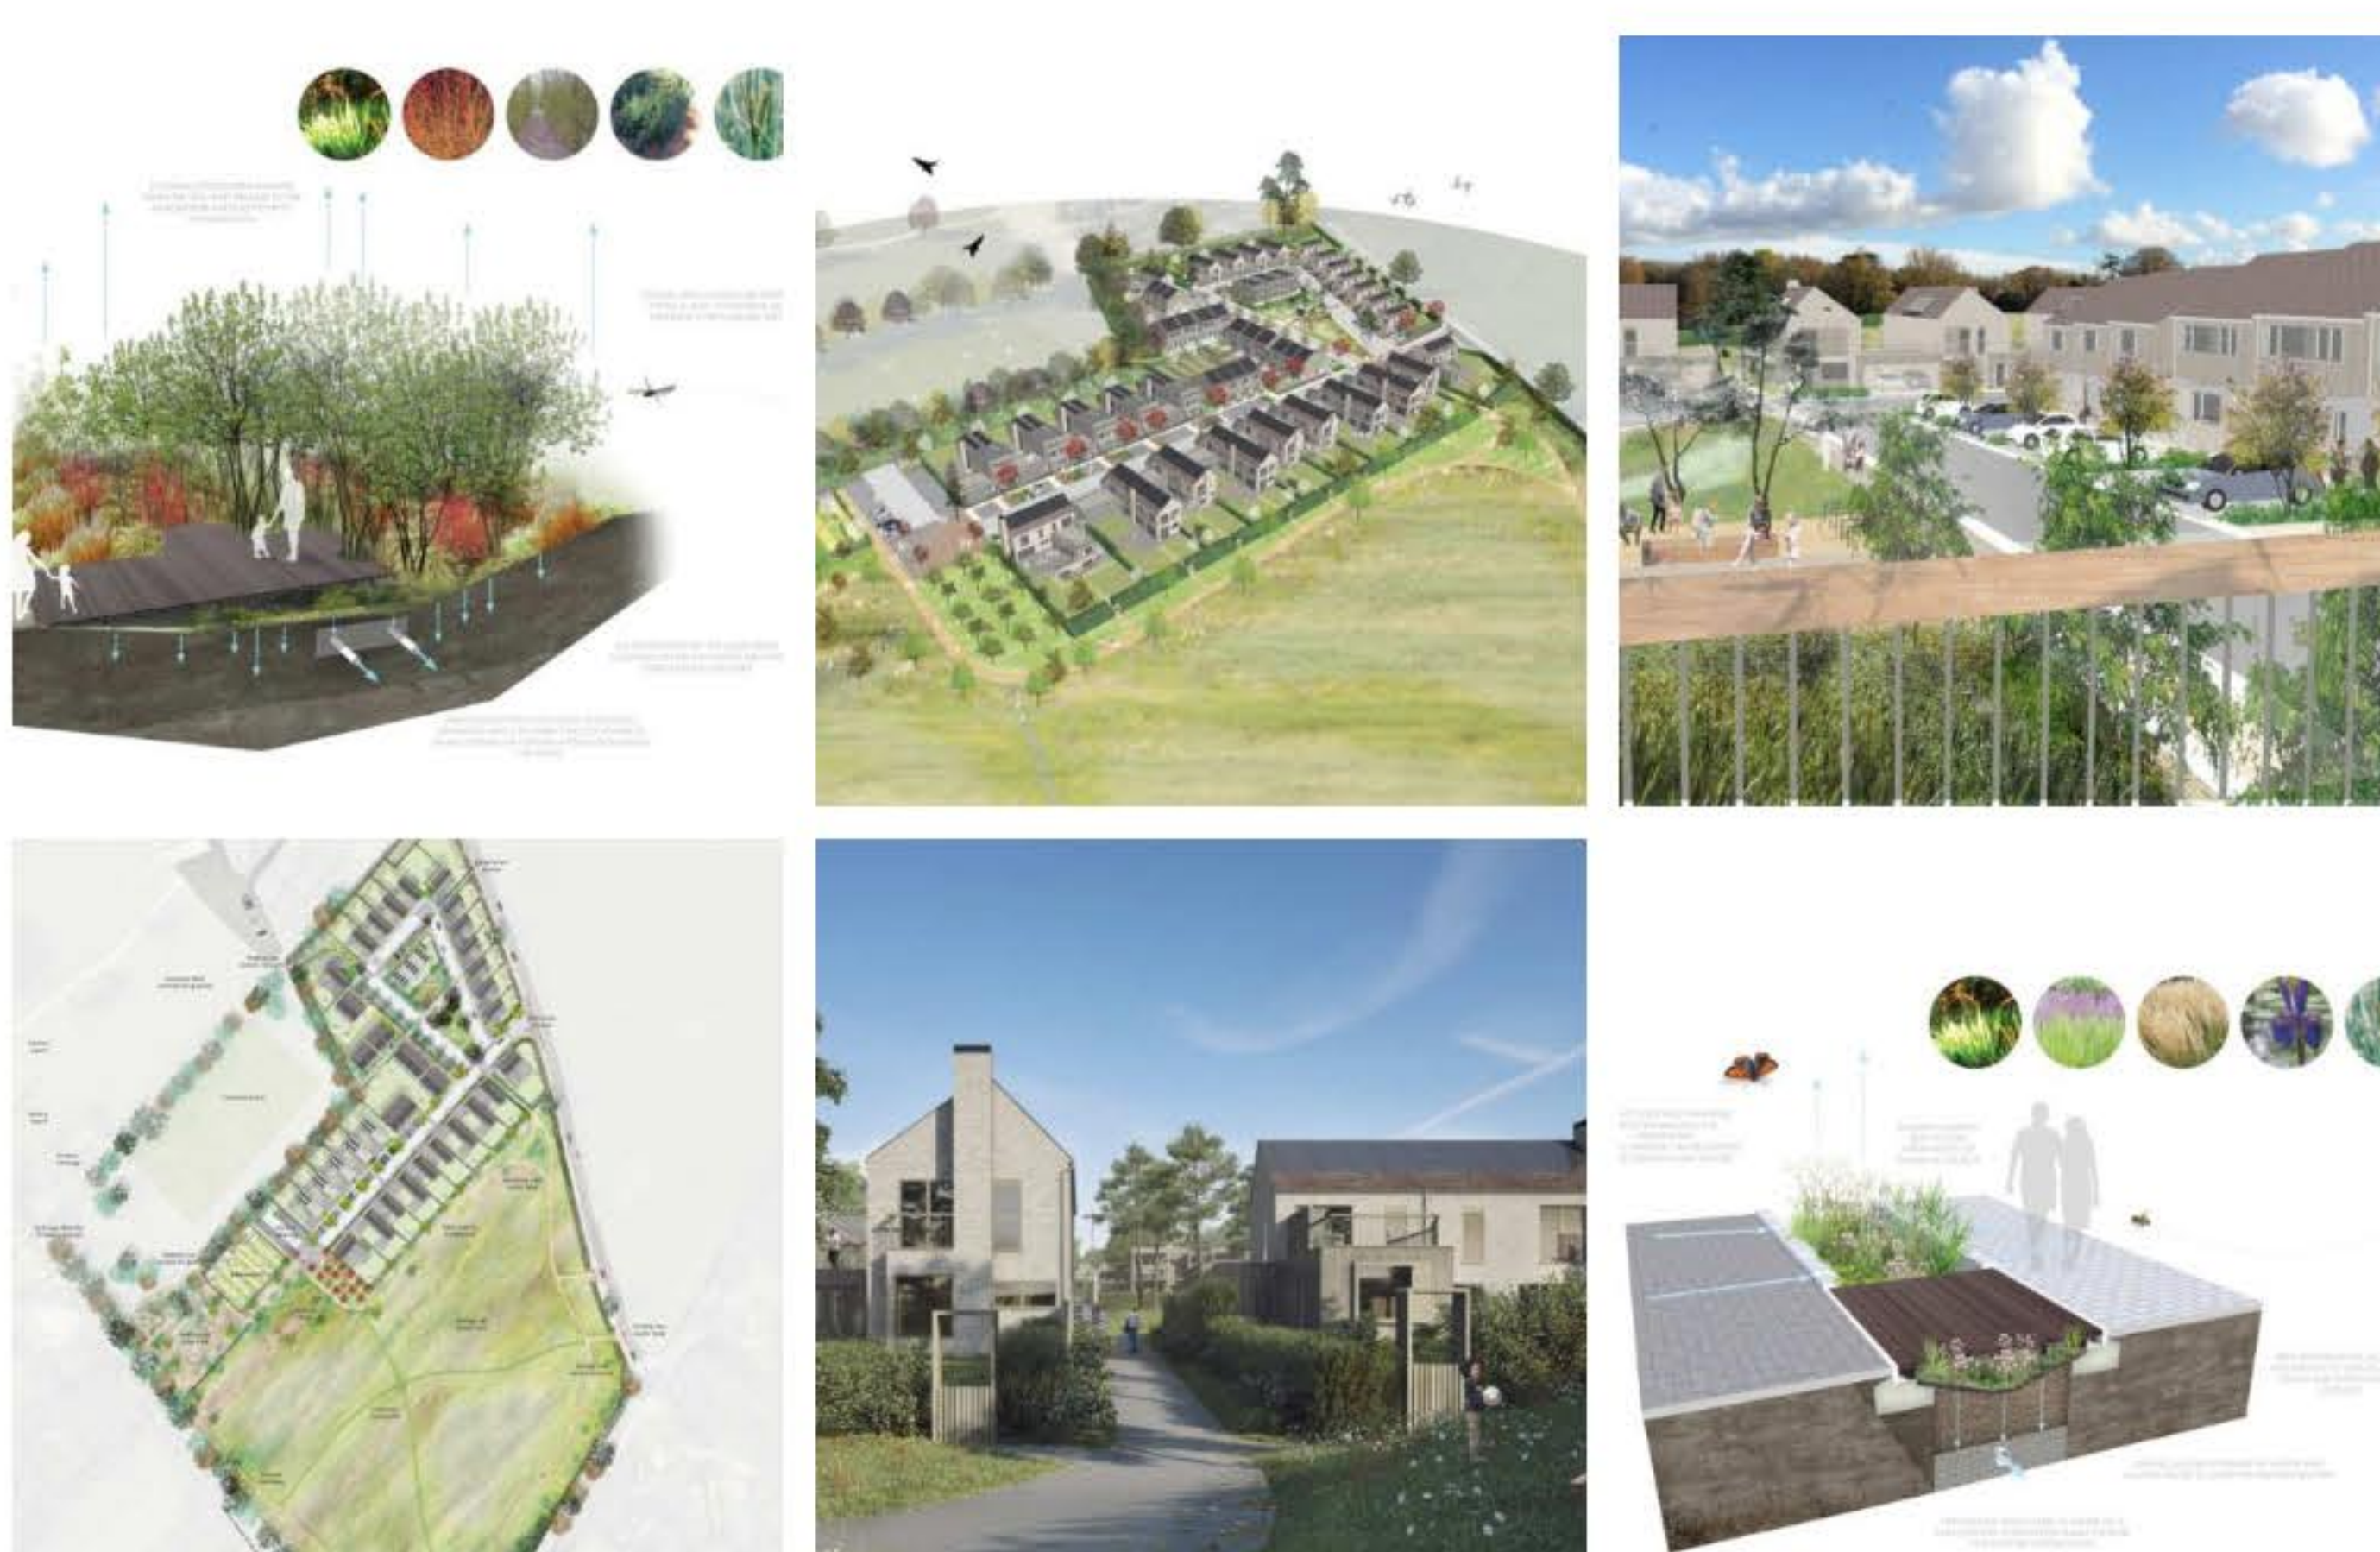

B|D in collaboration with Hawkins\Brown, Max Fordham and Elliot Wood are working on the redevelopment of the existing Emmanuel Primary School building to provide an Early Years Foundation Unit and the construction of a new build IFE Primary School funded by the Primary Capital Programme.

The landscape masterplan looks to enhance the ecological value of the site, with new habitats & increased biodiversity tailored to the local biodiversity action plan. We are incorporating outdoor classrooms, productive 'edible' gardens and green walls and a colourful rainbow terraced amphitheatre with stage as the focus to the external space.

Client: London Diocesan Board for Schools,
London Borough of Camden & Emmanuel Primary
Architect: Hawkins\Brown
Landscape Budget: circa £0.75 million
Status: Completed in 2014

HAB's Lovedon Lane

Our proposal creates a landscape plan for this semi-rural site to include allotments, a biodiverse country park area, a circular cycle path for children, wildflower meadows and a village green to enhance the development of 50 new homes on the site.

"The challenge for BD was to design a landscape that mediates between two different conditions; to reconcile the untamed informality of the open countryside with the intimate domestic spaces which anchor private houses within the public realm.

The result is both dense and free; richly detailed and fine-tuned but also effortless and relaxed; a project that defines the town as being 'of' its glorious rural setting, rather than detached from its surroundings by faceless suburban sprawl."

– Isabel Allen, Design Director, HAB Housing

Client: HAB
Architects: John Pardey Architects
Landscape Budget: Confidential
Status: On Site

Kings Cross Pond Club

